FRANK E. LANGLEY, Publisher

The Blue Danube is being rapidly changed to the Red Danube.

New York has new reason to feel jealous of its neighbor across the river, now that Brooklyn has won the National league pennant and is a contender for the "world's championship."

The "greatest German of the age" is the name popularly conferred in Germany on Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who on Tuesday reached his 69th birthday. One can imagine that Kaiser Wilhelm winced with jealousy when he noticed the popular acclaim given the able warrior.

The job of being mayor of New York City is almost as trying as that of being president of the United States. If it does not require as much executive ability it certainly demands as much tact and patience. Not the least of the mayor's perplexities are the labor troubles.

The Boston Transcript has learned that Vermont "has distinguished herself this year in the production of soldiers and apples." True enough, but that is only a small part of the story about Vermont. The state is coming to be foremost in so many things that it is hard to keep track of all.

To Senator Page's multitude of friends throughout Vermont it will be very good news that the condition of the Senator is improving at the Rutland hospital and that there is nothing organically wrong with him. There is no doubt that after the rigors of the strenuous campaign for renomination, Senator Page does stand in need of a rest, the rest that he is getting in the Rutland institution.

GRADUALLY BRIDGING THE CHASM.

Said Mr. Taft: "How do you do?"
Replied Mr. Roosevelt: "How do you do?"

It was no "Hello, Bill," or "Hello, Teddy"—just plain, formal, stereotyped vehicle of salutation between two men who might have been introduced at some time in the very remote past and who had come together by chance. Yes, they shook hands, did Taft and Roosevelt; and that is the nearest they have come to a reconciliation since the great cataclysm back in 1912. However, it may be said that relations between the former great cronies are warming slightly under the mellifluous influence of one, Charles E. Hughes. It may never get to be "Hello, Teddy," or "Hello, Bill," but it gives promise of being no longer a great yawning chasm of rent friendship. As two of the greatest Americans of the present age, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, our only living ex-presidents before the November election, ought to be big enough to settle their differences and dwell together in peace and unity.

MARSHFIELD.

The ladies' aid society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Mark Mears in her home next Thursday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 4. Harold B., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Berton Pike, who enlisted in Co. D of St. Johnsbury last May, and was later transferred to the regimental band, is at home, having been mustered out of the U. S. service about a week ago.
William A. Salsor, representing the A. I. Root Co., honey and beekeepers' supplies, of Medina, O., was the guest of Dean S. Hall one day last week. This company is the largest of its kind in the world. Mr. Hall is one of the veteran beekeepers of Vermont, his honey products being known throughout New England, and far west and south.
Harold Hutchinson of Waterbury was the guest recently of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Drinkwater.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy, Glossy and Beautiful at Once

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

To-night the Champlin Company Will Present "The Final Settlement."

To-night the Champlin Comedy Co. will present Lem B. Parker's greatest play of social life, "The Final Settlement." It is a gripping drama with a punch, a story of heart interest, and just enough comedy to relieve the sober dramatic moments. It is the story of the old wife for the new, or describing the dying of a man's love when wealth has taken the place of poverty.

"The Final Settlement" ran all of last season at the 48th street theatre and is considered one of the strongest plays in the Champlin repertoire. The cast is a large one and will require the full strength of the acting company and Miss Barry and Mr. Morgan are seen in two of the best parts in the repertoire. The play is in four acts and each act will be presented in its entirety. Tomorrow the Champlin company will present "The Natural Law."—adv.

May Irwin and Theatre Prices.

May Irwin, the greatest of America's comedienne, sounded the opening gun for cheap prices and box office honesty for the theatres of the country when she addressed a letter to Senator Root, chairman of the constitutional convention for the state of New York, asking him to put through an amendment to the constitution which would make it unlawful for any manager of an amusement place or his employee to accept for admission any ticket for which a price had been paid other than the box office price.

Miss Irwin made this the occasion for the promulgation of her crusade against the high prices charged in the theatres of New York and throughout the country. An examination of Miss Irwin's theatrical history shows that she has never anywhere outside of New York City charged a higher price for the orchestra than $1.50. This is a remarkable record. For, in a number of instances, and in certain territories of this country, the application of the lower price to a performance is considered by the theatre-goers as an admission of inferiority. But Miss Irwin has never yielded to the temptation of raising her prices.

Miss Irwin will be the attraction in her latest and greatest success, "33 Washington Square," at the opera house Monday, Oct. 9.—adv.

VERSHIRE

Bailey-Ricker Wedding Took Place Monday at High Noon.

A very pretty home wedding took place Monday at high noon, when Helen Ricker, oldest daughter of Mrs. Vance Conant, was married to Charles Bailey of this town, Rev. George Perry performing the ceremony, using the double ring service. The house was prettily decorated with white asters and potted plants. The bride carried flowers which were a loving gift from Mrs. H. Mattoon. Doris Ricker, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Leon Flint the best man. Mrs. Bailey wore a hand embroidered white silk organdie, while her traveling suit and hat were blue. The bridesmaid wore old rose silk. A wedding dinner was served to the invited guests, after which the happy couple started on a short trip. After their return they will reside at the Stacy farm, where Mr. Bailey has worked for several years.

The family of Frank Miles is moving into the west side of the F. J. Ackerman house and Daniel Pratt's family have moved into the Rufus Blanchard house.

George E. Stacy had the misfortune to cut off the end of one finger in his new corn cutter. Drs. Marshall and Allen were called to attend Mr. Stacy.

C. B. Harding and Mr. and Mrs. Orr were in St. Johnsbury the first of the week to visit Mrs. W. J. Lewis and family. They found her well and pleasantly located.

On Sept. 26, a large company met at the hall to help Harrison Tuller celebrate his 21st birthday. A nice program was enjoyed and music was furnished by the Chelsea orchestra. Ice cream and cake were served.

The friends and neighbors of Helen Ricker gave her a kitchen shower Saturday evening, when a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Conant served cake, doughnuts and coffee. An original idea was the using of dish drawers, cake tins, bean pots, etc., for trays. Doris Ricker of Montpelier seminary came during the evening and helped to make it pleasant.

DON'T BE BALD

Here's a Good Way to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Hair Growth

If the hair root is absolutely dead, permanent baldness will be your lot, and you might as well cheer up as to bemoan your fate.

If your hair is falling or thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to the Red Cross Pharmacy and get a bottle of Parisian Sage, the truly efficient hair grower.

Don't say, "It's the same old story; I've heard it before," but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair, to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and stop scalp itch, or money back.

Parisian Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate and nourish the hair roots. It's a prime favorite with discriminating ladies, because it makes the hair soft, bright, and appear twice as abundant. It is antiseptic, killing the odors that are bound to arise from excretions of the scalp and, as everyone knows, sage is excellent for the hair and scalp.

Parisian Sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at drug and toilet counters everywhere.—Adv.
